

THORAX ONLINE – ACCESS INSTRUCTIONS

As part of your membership with BTS you have access to Thorax online which contains all the following and more:

- All the content from the print version and all archived articles from 1946
- Airwaves – an overview of the latest articles
- Online first – published first online for instant access
- The latest Podcasts

Please note: your membership must include the journal Thorax to be able to access Thorax online.

Log in to Thorax online:

1. Visit <http://thorax.bmj.com> and log in or
2. Click on the Thorax logo (top right) on www.brit-thoracic.org.uk and log in.

Activate your account:

If you have never accessed Thorax online then you first need to activate your account.

You will need your unique six digit customer number. You can find this number on the mailing label on the delivery package.

1. Go to the thorax.bmj.com and click on the “Activate link”
2. Click on “Activate your online subscription” underneath “Personal subscriptions” heading
3. Enter your six digit customer number and click submit
4. Enter your email address and create a username and password. You will only need to activate your subscription once

If you have already activated your account and made up the password/username, all you need to do is to click on an article you wish to access and you will be prompted to enter your password and username.

If you have forgotten your password/username or customer number, contact the BMJ and they will look at your details and help with any problems:
